WOLF PROFESSIONAL RISK, INC. TO SERVE PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY MARKETPLACE

Tampa, FL – Wolf Professional Risk, Inc. a wholesale brokerage firm, announced today that it would begin services within the professional liability marketplace. The firm will initially focus on products that provide coverage for attorneys (lawyers professional liability), miscellaneous medical facilities (medical facilities liability), and insurance agents (agents errors and omissions) with plans to roll out additional products over time.

Wolf Professional Risk, Inc. was founded by Boyd H. Wolf, Esq., CPCU, RPLU, and David E. Gough, CIC, both of which have extensive prior experience in professional liability coverage. “We are niche players in an extremely vast field. We are not going to try to be all things to all people. Rather, we will stick to what we know best,” commented Boyd H. Wolf, President and CEO. “Our agent partners will be diverse. From those that have little or no expertise in professional liability to those that have experience and would like to offer their clients a market alternative. The insurance carriers that we represent will appreciate our commitment to profitable underwriting results and doing everything that we can to ensure their staying power within the marketplace. On either side of the equation, our partners will know we are committed to extraordinary customer service and profitable long term relationships.”
